

WFL Endangered Stream Live – Talk Radio for Animal Protection

MEDIA ALERT

March 25, 2009

Captain Paul Watson, Founder, Executive Director of Sea Shepherd Conservation Society will be a Featured Guest of WFL Endangered Stream Live, Talk Radio for Animal Protection. Watson will address the importance of preserving the harp seals and current state of affairs regarding the Canadian Seal Hunt during this special segment entitled, “Seal Warriors”. The show will broadcast to an international audience on Saturday, April 18th, 2009. The segment airs live from 3PM -4PM (PST)/ 6PM-7PM (EST). The WFL Endangered Stream Live chat room will be open during the live broadcast.

Paul Watson, native to Canada and a lifelong activist; is the world’s most influential person in the anti-sealing campaign. Sea Shepherd has been fighting sealers since 1975, and over the course of a quarter of a century they have saved hundreds of thousands of seals from slaughter using many different and creative methods. Sea Shepherd's highly-publicized efforts have helped in creating awareness, which is the first step in enacting change.

Contact

PR: Kate Dudley: E-Mail

Program Director: Katia Louise: E-Mail

www.wflendangeredstreamlive.org

###